101 AMERICA'S TOP TRUCKING PROVIDERS

By Steve Lowery

Our second annual "Trucking 101: America's Top Trucking Providers" report is built to be an easy reference guide. We've chosen to highlight 101 companies that we think you should call when looking for a trucking partner, and pinpointed an interesting tidbit about the services of each. Referencing is simple: Every category—Truckload, LTL, Dedicated, Temp-Controlled, Expedited, Project Cargo, Flatbed, Bulk/Liquid and Hazardous—offers a full list of each company from our report that provides the service, along with the aforementioned brief snapshots of the companies with a unique attribute in the given section.

As you've come to expect with Global Trade lists, the unexpected is always in play. Some trucking providers are the biggest in the world, some far from it but worthy of the praise. The best question isn't whether these are the BIGGEST companies on the block, but are they trucking companies? With the fierce competition in the world of transportation, some third-party logistics companies (3PLs) have full trucking divisions and some trucking companies have grown to provide 3PL services. For our purposes, if you either own the assets or directly contract with owner-operators, you're a trucking company in our book—er ... magazine.
